Last week, I played hide-and-seek with my friends. But something happened...

The bell rang. "It's recess time!" Our classmates shouted loudly and ran away. There were only Tom, Mary, Jason, and I was in the classroom. Tom wanted to play some games. Jason suggested to play hide-and-seek. We all agreed and we started to play.

"Nine, ten!" Mary shouted. The game started. I hid between the two trees. Mary walked past and she did not see me. I was so happy. I wanted to hide another place, but, guess what? Mary heard some sound and she turned around. Oh no! I was so scared. I quickly ran into the hall and closed the door. Mary saw no one and she ran away. I was happy and I wanted to go back to the trees. But... the door was locked! I was so scared. I found a stick in my pocket and I tried to use the stick to open the door. But, it did not work. I used my foot to kick the door but it couldn't work too. So, I started to wait, wait and wait... I waited for ten minutes, but, no one came. I felt hungry and cold and I started to feel scared...

I was so lucky that day. A teacher found me! But, I felt a little bit scared because she stared at me and I know she was very, very angry...
