Question

Julie is your friend who lives in Canada. Both she and you love outdoor camping. In her last email, Julie asks you a question:

“What are the differences between summer and winter camp in Hong Kong?”

In your reply to Julie, you may talk about the differences of:

- weather conditions
- camp sites (or places)
- activities
- preparations

The pictures below may also help you write your reply letter.

Write about 200 words. Sign your name ‘Chris’.

Dear Julie,

How are you and your family in Canada? Is it cold in the winter? Well, if it is, put on more clothes to keep warm. I've thought about the question you've asked me in the last email, I've been doing research about it. Let me tell you.

The weather conditions are that in summer it's hotter so we can bring less clothes to fill up space in our bags. But in winter, we must keep warm to avoid getting sick, so we must bring more clothes and it will make our bags heavier.

The camp site is two different places in summer and winter too! In summer, we could go to the camp site for tents, and we could be closer to wildlife and nature. Since it's cold in winter, the camp site most people go to is the one with houses, therefore they will be warmer indoors, but it will also give them less time with wildlife and nature.

The activities we can do is also different in both summer and winter. In summer we can ride a boat, or rent some bikes nearby to ride or we can also play some games with twigs outdoors. And in winter, as I told you, due to the cold weather, we can't do much outdoors or else we will freeze to death! Actually, I'm just kidding... We can do a lot in the winter, we could roast marshmallows, build a camp fire outside next to the camp house or we can also fly a kite in the strong wind. I've tried it once, it's pretty amazing, when the wind blows, the colourful kite will soar in the sky. And when lots of people came and fly their kites too, it'll be a pretty sight.

I wish you could come to Hong Kong with your family this winter to go camping with us. Next time, tell me about the difference of summer and winter camp in Canada.

Your friend,

Chris

P.S. Don't forget to bring your kite when you come to camp in Hong Kong.
