A Wonderful Holiday

I really want to go to the space museum in Tin Sha Tsui, because I've only been there once. My friends said that we can learn a lot of things there. The thing that makes me want to go there so badly is because the space museum is shaped like a round ball. I wonder if it's because the planets are round too.

The reason I want to go to the space museum is because I have developed an interest for the solar system since I was a child. Plus, I've only been to the space museum once, so I really would love to go there again. The other reason I want to go to the space museum is because I hope to be an astronaut when I grow up. But my parents object to my dream of being an astronaut, so I would like to prove to them I can be a great astronaut.

I remember my first time at the space museum. I was only six back then. There were a lot of buttons in that place. Before going to the space museum, my parents told me to behave myself, but I couldn't resist the temptation to push the buttons on the machine. I pressed those buttons so hard that they always broke. So of course I was reprimanded by my parents promptly. I was grounded for a month. What an unpleasant experience. So now I don't even dare to think of touching anything that doesn't belong to me.

When my parents decided to bring me to the space museum, I was overjoyed, thrilled. I know my dream of being an astronaut is quite hard for me to reach, but I understand if I work harder my dream will not become waste.

My exams have just finished, and a public holiday is coming up, so this is a great time to go visit the space museum. I plan to at least learn a few things at the space museum and I won't even worry about whether will I be able to have any fun at all. Having fun is my specialty. So I won't forget about that important point. I can't even think of a way for me to express my happiness for going to the space museum. Where do you plan to go during the public holiday? Do you think you will have a lot of fun?
