After that, we went to a famous fashion shop. I touched the dummies inside it because they were beautiful. Besides, I also took some photos with them. They were fantastic photos. However, my friends were all very scared.

Then, we went to toy shop. We played the toys there. They were all very funny and interesting, such as toy cars, Barbie dolls, TV games.....

When we were playing the toy cars, I stepped on it and I fell down.

While I was standing up, all the toys could move by themselves. My friends and I couldn't believe that, so we left the toy shop as soon as possible.

We kept running until we arrived at a corner which was putting many pictures that drew by famous artists. That was the first pictures that I had seen before. We went in front of a picture which drew by a Chinese artist. Then, a scary thing happened again. The horse in the picture went out from it. The man took us to the horse's back and it started running.

It took us to a big book shop and kicked us down from its back.

We all felt painful. I thought it must be some strange things happening here. Therefore, we went out quickly. Then, we saw a lot book flew all towards us. We ran and ran and came to a small toilet. We thought we should call the police, so I called it by my phone.

When the police came, all the things just looked like nothing happened. The police also thought that we had stolen something from the department store. Therefore, they took us back to the police station.
It was the most unlucky day in my life.
